

DoubleLine Shiller CAPE[®] U.S. Equities ETF

June 2022 | U.S. Large Cap Equity | Ticker: CAPE

Investment Objective and Approach

The Fund's objective is to seek total return which exceeds the total return of the S&P 500 Index. The Fund seeks to invest in the securities that correspond to the four "cheapest" sectors of the U.S. large-cap equity market. The Fund is rebalanced on a monthly basis to create an investment return that approximates that of the CAPE[®] Index.

Investment Philosophy

The Fund aims to incorporate the principles of long-term investing distilled by Professor Robert Shiller through his work on the CAPE[®] Ratio, via the CAPE[®] Index. The Index aims to identify undervalued sectors based on a modified CAPE[®] Ratio, and then uses a momentum factor to seek to mitigate the effects of potential value traps.

This ETF is different from traditional ETFs. Traditional ETFs tell the public what assets they hold each day. This ETF will not. This may create additional risks for your investment. For example:

- You may have to pay more money to trade the ETF's shares. This ETF will provide less information to traders, who tend to charge more for trades when they have less information.
- The price you pay to buy ETF shares on an exchange may not match the value of the ETF's portfolio. The same is true when you sell shares. These price differences may be greater for this ETF compared to other ETFs because it provides less information to traders.
- These additional risks may be even greater in bad or uncertain market conditions.

The differences between this ETF and other ETFs may also have advantages. By keeping certain information about the ETF secret, this ETF may face less risk that other traders can predict or copy its investment strategy. This may improve the ETF's performance. If other traders are able to copy or predict the ETF's investment strategy, however, this may hurt the ETF's performance.

Shiller Barclays CAPE US Sector TR USD Index incorporates the principles of long-term investing distilled by Dr. Robert Shiller and expressed through the CAPE[®] (Cyclically Adjusted Price Earnings) ratio (the "CAPE[®] Ratio"). It aims to identify undervalued sectors based on a modified CAPE[®] Ratio, and then uses a momentum factor to seek to mitigate the effects of potential value traps.

Risk Disclosure

Investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. Equities may decline in value due to both real and perceived general market, economic and industry conditions.

The Fund is a "non-diversified" investment company and therefore may invest a greater percentage of its assets in the securities of a single issuer or a limited number of issuers than funds that are "diversified." Accordingly, the Fund is more susceptible to risks associated with a single economic, political or regulatory occurrence than a diversified fund might be.

ETF investments involve additional risks such as the market price trading at a discount to its net asset value, an active secondary trading market may not develop or be maintained, or trading may be halted by the exchange in which they trade, which may impact a fund's ability to sell its shares.

For additional information regarding the unique attributes and risks of the ETF, see the Prospectus and SAI, which are available on the ETF's website.

Definition of Terms

Average Daily Volume – Consolidated daily volume of shares traded, averaged over the last 30 calendar days.

Market Price - The price at which shares in the ETF can be bought or sold on the exchanges during trading hours, while the net asset value (NAV) represents the value of each share's portion of the fund's underlying assets and cash at the end of the trading day.

Median Bid-Ask Spread – This figure is calculated by identifying national best bid and national best offer ("NBBO") for each Fund as of the end of each 10 second interval during each trading day of the last 30 calendar days and dividing the difference between each such bid and offer by the midpoint of the NBBO. The median of those values is identified and posted on each business day.
